ONCE UPON A TIME...

'Once upon a time ...' There's really no other sentence this book could start with. As a child I was drawn like a magnet to the thick fairytale books with red covers and golden letters that we had included in our bookcase. Red Riding Hood, Cinderella, the wolf and the seven goats ... I thought the tales were all equally stunning. The good always won from evil and they lived happily ever after.

Later in life, I understood the moral of the tales. Fairy tales really reveal what you'll encounter in your own life: happiness, sadness, temptation, jealousy, injustice, friendship, love and loss.

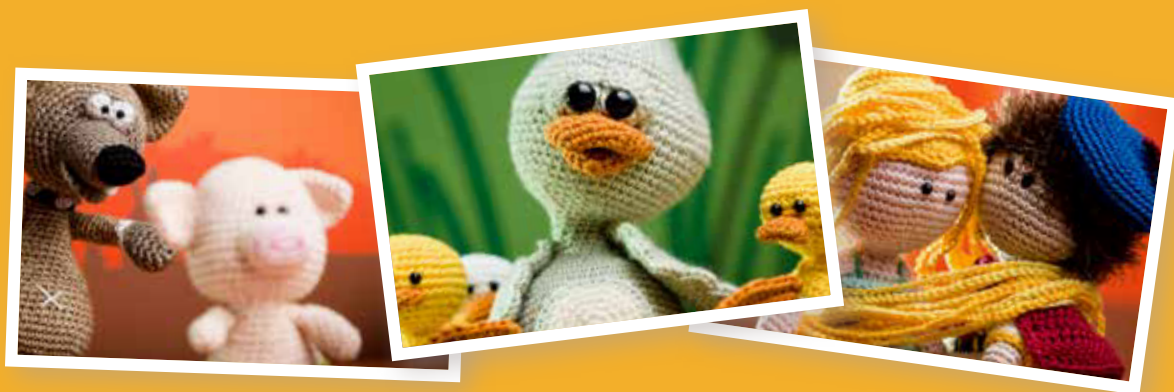

Fairy tales inspire and surprise, they take you to a magical world where both children and adults never get bored. That's why I thought it was an honor to make this crochet book and I enjoyed working on it. It is very special to design your own fairy tale world based on your own childhood memories.

Of course I put a bit of myself in there. So the big bad wolf is secretly a softy, but he tries to look more dangerous by wearing a spiky collar. And Prince Charming is still not sure which princess stole his heart: the lovely Snow White or Cinderella. Or maybe Rapunzel, with her beautiful long hair? A luxury problem, I guess. Goldilocks, Little Red Riding Hood, the seven goats, the ugly duckling and the three little pigs all play a leading role.

I hope you will like joining in with this amigurumi-style fairytale world. With the patterns in this book you'll make the main characters and you'll be amazed at the stories in which they are the heroes.

ENJOY CROCHETING! Tessa van Riet-Ernst

BASIC MATERIALS

Colorful yarn

With every pattern in this book we list the materials used to create that design. The yarn thickness is specified with every pattern. Don't feel tied to the choices of yarn thickness though, any weight of cotton, acrylic or wool can be used as a substitute, provided you use the right crochet hook accordingly.

For each pattern we mention the amount of yarn that you need of each color in the original setup. You can use leftovers from other projects or start with a new ball of yarn. Please note: if you are working with thicker yarn, you'll need more yarn than stated.

Crochet hooks

Crochet hooks come in different shapes and sizes.

I work with an ergonomic Amour Clover crochet hook. In this book we use a hook size 2.5 mm / B-1.

On each ball of yarn you will find a mention of the matching hook. If you want to make a larger or smaller amigurumi, you will need to choose thinner or thicker yarn and combine that with the right hook size.

Do note that for amigurumi you should use a hook 2 sizes smaller than stated on the label of your yarn. The crochetwork for amigurumi must be very tight, with no holes through which the stuffing can escape. It will be easier to achieve this result with a smaller hook.

Stitch marker

A stitch marker is a small clip made of metal or plastic. It's a simple tool to mark your starting point and give you the assurance that you've made the right number of stitches in each round. With my stitch marker I always mark the last stitch of the previous round.

Stuffing

For the filling polyester fiberfill is advised. You can purchase this at any craft shop. It is inexpensive, washable and non-allergenic. Be careful not to overstuff your amigurumi as the stuffing might stretch the fabric and show through.

Want your amigurumi to stay upright? Then you can use polypropylene granules. These are white plastic grains that add weight to your character so that it remains seated or standing. Note that the grains should not pass through your crochetwork. If they do, use a pair of tights to put the granules in. Never use granules in amigurumi intended for small children!

Safety eyes and noses

For the patterns in this book safety eyes and noses are used. These are widely available. Be alert when you apply safety eyes: once you put the washer on you won't be able to pull it off again. So be very careful that the post is where you want it to be before attaching the washer. Alternatively, the features can be embroidered, which is recommended if you're crocheting for children under the age of three. For embroidery a tapestry needle with a rounded tip is used.

Pipe cleaners

Pipe cleaners are used in order to make certain parts of the body movable. Pipe cleaners are available in different colors in the handicraft shop.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE YOU START

Skill level

easy (♥♥♥)

intermediate (♥♥♥♥)

advanced (♥♥♥♥♥)

Every pattern is marked with a skill level to indicate how easy they are to make. If this is your first time making amigurumi, it's best to start with an easy pattern and work up to the intermediate and advanced ones.

Pattern structure

All patterns in this book are worked in continuous spirals, not in joined rounds. Crocheting in spirals can be confusing since there's no clear indication of where a new round begins and the previous one ends. To keep track of the rounds, you can mark the end of a round with a stitch marker or safety pin. After crocheting the next round, you should end up right above your stitch marker. Move your stitch marker at the end of each round to keep track of where you are.

At the beginning of each line of the pattern you will find 'Rnd + a number' to indicate which round you are in.

Although we usually crochet in rounds, occasionally it happens that we switch to rows. When we switch to rows, it will be indicated with 'Row + a number'. When working in rows, you make a turning chain and turn your piece at the end of each row. Start the next row in the second chain from your hook.

At the end of each line you will find the number of stitches you should have in square brackets, for example [9]. When in doubt take a moment to check your stitch count.

Abbreviations are used throughout the book. You can find the explanation on the next pages.

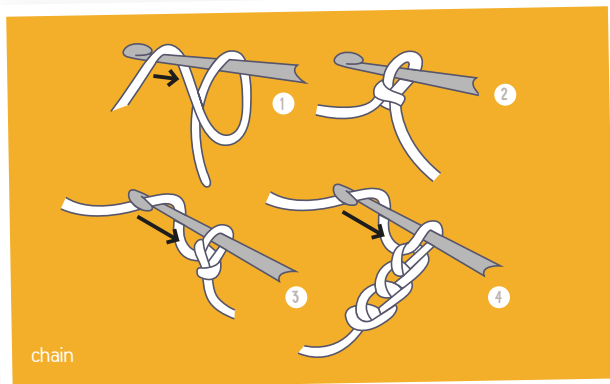

When part of the instructions repeat throughout the round, we place it between rounded brackets followed by the number of times it should be repeated. We do this to shorten the pattern and make it less cluttered.

BASIC STITCHES

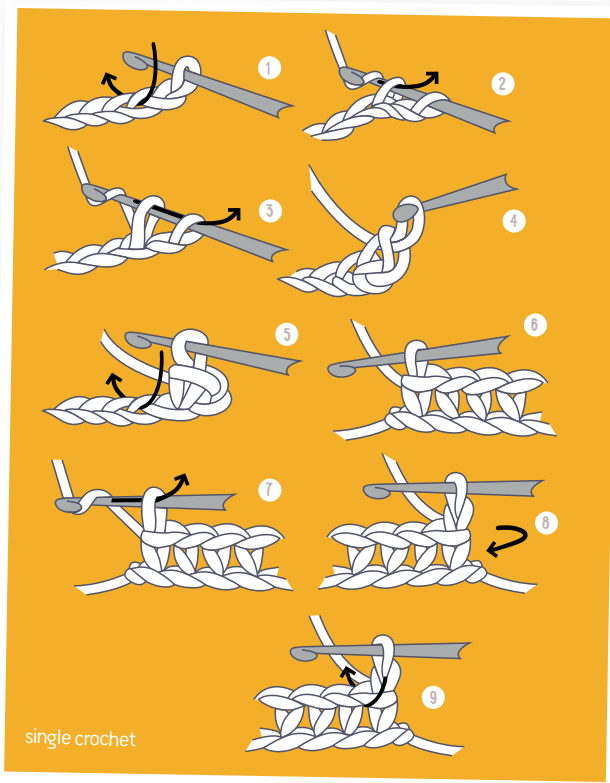

If this is your first time making amigurumi you might find it useful to have a tutorial at hand. With the stitches explained in the next pages you can make all of the amigurumi in this book. I suggest you practice the basic stitches before you start making one of the designs. This will help you to read the patterns and abbreviations more comfortably without having to browse back to these pages.

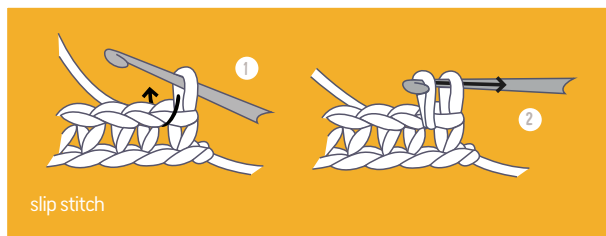

Chain (abbreviation: ch)

This stitch is the basis for many crochet patterns. If you're working in rows, your first row will be a series of chain stitches. Use the hook to draw the yarn through the loop (1) and pull the loop until tight (2). Wrap the yarn over the hook from back to front. Pull the hook, carrying the yarn, through the loop already on your hook (3). You have now completed one chain stitch. Repeat these steps as indicated in the pattern to create a foundation chain (4).

Single crochet (abbreviation: sc)

Single crochet is the stitch that will be most frequently used in this book. Insert the hook into the next chain stitch (1) and wrap the yarn over the hook. Pull the yarn through the stitch (2). You will see that there are now two loops on the hook. Wrap the yarn over the hook again and draw it through both loops at once (3). You have now completed one single crochet (4). Insert the hook into the next chain stitch to continue the row (5). At the end of the row (6) you need to bring the yarn up to the correct height to work the first stitch. Make one chain stitch (7) and turn the work (8). Start the next single crochet in the first stitch (don't count the turning chain as a stitch). To work into a previous row of crochet, insert your hook under both loops of the first stitch, as shown in figure (9).

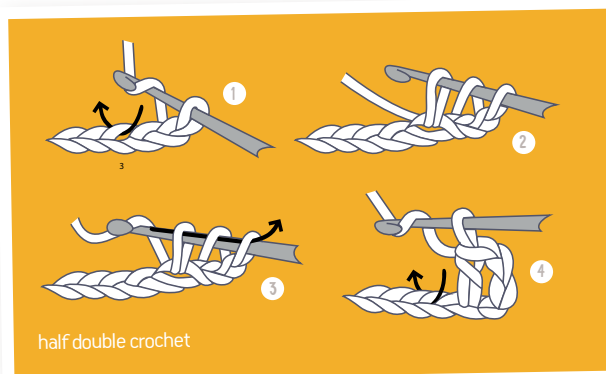

Slip stitch (abbreviation: slst)

A slip stitch is used to move across one or more stitches at once or to finish a piece. Insert your hook into the next stitch (1). Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw through both loops at once (2).

Double crochet (abbreviation: dc)

Bring your yarn over the hook from back to front before placing the hook in the stitch. Now insert your hook in the fourth chain - without counting the loop on the hook (1). Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw the yarn through the chain stitch. You now have three loops on the hook (2). Wrap the yarn over the hook again and pull it through the first two loops on the hook (3). You now have 2 loops on the hook. Wrap the yarn over the hook one last time and draw it through both loops on the hook (4). You have now completed one double crochet. To continue bring your yarn over the hook and insert it in the next chain stitch (5).

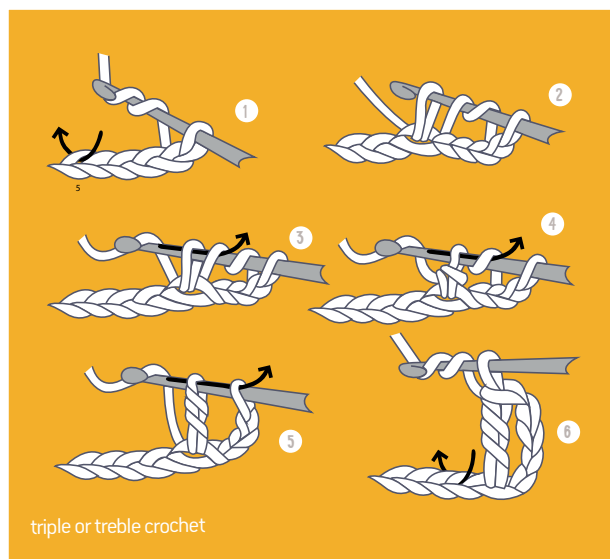

Half double crochet (abbreviation: hdc)

Bring your yarn over the hook from back to front before placing the hook in the stitch. Now insert your hook in the third chain - without counting the loop on the hook (1). Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw the yarn through the chain stitch. You now have three loops on the hook (2). Wrap the yarn over the hook again and pull it through all three loops on the hook (3). You have completed your first half double crochet. To continue bring your yarn over the hook and insert it in the next chain stitch (4).

Triple or treble crochet (abbreviation: tr)

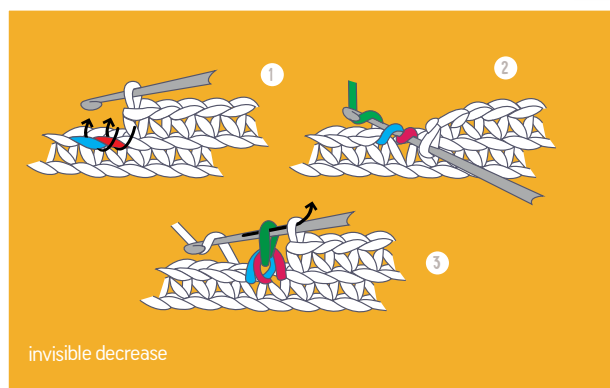

Bring your yarn over the hook twice before you insert it in the fifth chain from the hook (1). Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw the yarn through the chain stitch (2). Wrap the yarn over the hook again and pull it through the first two loops on the hook (3). Repeat this last step twice (4 & 5). You have now completed one triple crochet. To start a second row, bring your yarn to the correct height by making four chain stitches. Start the next triple crochet in the second stitch. Yarn over twice and be sure to insert your hook under both loops of this stitch.

Double triple crochet (abbreviation: dtr)

A double triple crochet stitch resembles the triple crochet stitch (page 14). Bring your yarn over the hook three times and insert it in the next stitch. Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw the yarn through the stitch. Wrap the yarn over the hook again and pull it through the first 2 loops on the hook. Repeat this last step 3 times until you have only one leftover loop on your hook. You have now completed one double triple crochet stitch.

Invisible decrease (abbreviation: dec)

The standard method of decreasing can leave a small bump or gap. The invisible decrease is an alternative method of decreasing which will make your decrease stitch look much like the other stitches in the row, so it results in a more smooth and even crochet fabric. Insert the hook in the front loop of your first stitch. Now immediately insert your hook in the front loop of the second stitch (1). You now have three loops on your hook. Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw it through the first two loops on your hook (2). Wrap the yarn over again and draw it through the two loops remaining on your hook (4). You have now completed one invisible decrease.

Increase (abbreviation: inc)

To increase you make two single crochet stitches in the next stitch.

Magic ring

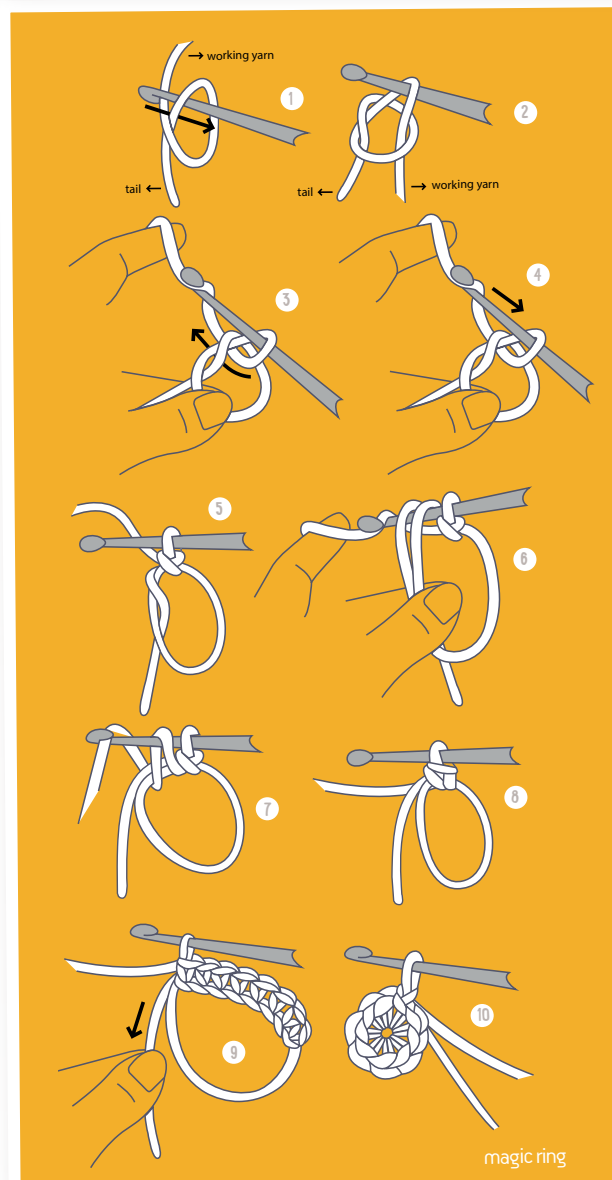

A magic ring is the ideal way to start crocheting in the round. You start by crocheting over an adjustable loop and finally pull the loop tight when you have finished the required number of stitches. The advantage of this method is that there's no hole left in the middle of your starting round.

Start with the yarn crossed to form a circle [1]. Draw up a loop with your hook but don't pull it tight [2]. Hold the circle with your index finger and thumb, and wrap the working yarn over your middle finger [3]. Make one chain stitch by wrapping the yarn over the hook and pulling it through the loop on your hook [4]. Now insert your hook into the loop and underneath the tail. Wrap the yarn over the hook and draw up a loop [6]. Wrap the yarn over the hook again and draw it through both loops on your hook [7]. You have now completed your first single crochet [8]. Continue to crochet until you have the required number of stitches as mentioned in the pattern.

Now grab the yarn tail and pull to draw the centre of the ring tightly closed [9].

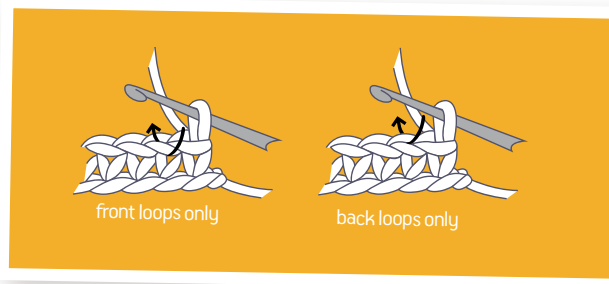

You can now begin your second round by crocheting into the first stitch of the first round. You can use a stitch marker to remember where you started.

If you do not prefer this technique, you can start each piece using the following technique: ch 2, x sc into the second chain from the hook - where x is the number of sc stitches you would make in your magic ring.

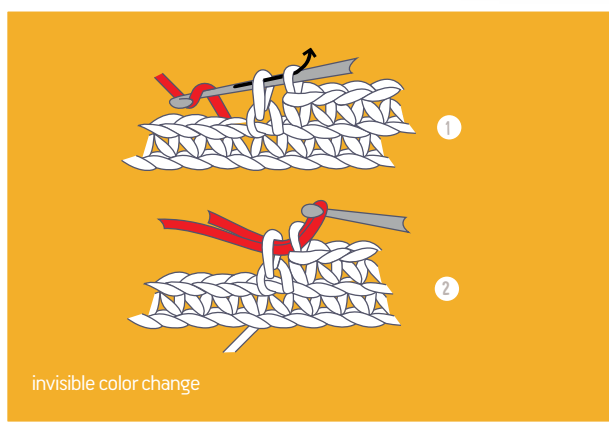

Front loops only (abbreviation: FLO) and back loops only (abbreviation: BLO)

When making a crochet stitch, you end up with two loops at the top of the stitch, a front loop towards you (1) and a back loop (2). When asked to crochet FLO or BLO you make the same stitch but leave one loop untouched.

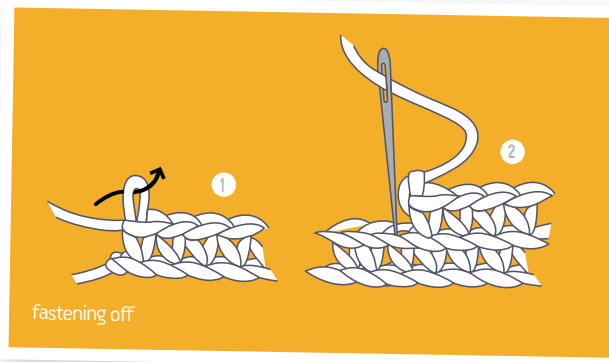

Invisible color change

When you want to switch from one color to the next, you work to within two stitches before a color change. Make the next stitch as usual, but don't pull the final loop through (1). Instead, wrap the new color of yarn around your hook and pull it through the remaining loops (2). To make a neat color change, you can make the first stitch in the new color a slip stitch instead of a single crochet. Don't pull the slip stitch too tight or it will be difficult to crochet into in the next round. Tie the loose tails in a knot and leave them on the inside.

Fastening off

When you've finished crocheting, cut the yarn a couple of inches / about 20 cm from your last stitch. Pull the yarn through the last loop until it is all the way through (1). You now have a finished knot. Thread the long tail through a tapestry needle and insert your tapestry needle through the back loop of the next stitch (2). This way the finishing knot will remain invisible in your finished piece. You can use this piece of yarn to continue sewing the body pieces together.

Joining all parts

First, pin together the parts that you want to sew to one another, so you can evaluate the results and adjust if necessary. If possible use the leftover yarn tail from where you fastened off or use a new length of the same yarn color from one of the pieces that you want to join.

When the different pieces are open: position the piece on the body and sew all around it, going through the front stitches of both the extremity and the body.

When the opening of the different pieces is sewn closed before attaching it to the body, you line up the stitches of one side with the other side and sew through the front loop of one side and the back loop of the other side. Use the same color of yarn as one of the pieces you want to join together.

Always make sure pieces are securely attached so that they can't be pulled off. Make small, neat stitches and try to make them show as little as possible.

GOLDILOCKS AND THE THREE BEARS

Once upon a time there was a little girl with the most beautiful name. She was called Goldilocks. She had gorgeous golden curled hair and the sweetest smile. She may have looked like an angel, but she was always playing monkey tricks. One day, Goldilocks' mom had had enough. She sighed and said: 'Go and play in the woods, at least you won't be able to lark around there. But please be careful, as there are plenty of bears!'

Goldilocks had no fear and ran out. Deep in the forest she saw a cute little wooden house. A delicious smell came out and Goldilocks could not restrain her curiosity.

She carefully pushed the door of the cottage and saw three bowls of creamy porridge on the table. Just a little bite won't harm anyone, she thought, and she ate a spoonful from the biggest bowl. 'Ugh!' she grumbled, 'That porridge is way too cold!' After that, she tried the middle bowl. 'Ouch!' she shouted, 'Way too hot!' Finally, she had a spoonful of the smallest bowl. 'Delicious', she sighed, and ate the whole bowlful.

After eating that delicious porridge, Goldilocks wanted to rest for a while in one of the three chairs around the table. She climbed on to the highest chair, but she didn't like it: 'Whew, this one is much too hard.' She tried the middle chair, which was too soft. After that, she sat down on the smallest chair. 'Aha! This one is perfect', she said, but then, CRACK!, it broke under her weight.

Oops, where am I going to rest now?, she thought, as the three beds in the corner caught her eye. She fell down with a thud on the big bed, which was much too hard! After that, she tried the middle bed: 'Oh boy, much too soft, I seem to be disappearing in it.' Finally, she nestled down in the smallest bed: 'Ahhh, perfect', she whispered, before falling into a deep sleep.

HAIR (picture 16 to 19)

Take a ball of dark yellow yarn and cut strands of 12" / 30 cm. Cut enough strands to cover the entire head with. Place the strands over the head with the center of the strand at the center point of the head. The length should be equal on both sides of the head. Sew the strands to the middle of the head. When they are sewn, divide the hair into three equal parts on both sides and make a braid, one on the left side of the head, one on the right side. Tie a bow around the bottom of the braid using dark blue yarn. Cut the ends straight.

That day, the bear family had planned a convivial day out. Mama bear had prepared the most delicious picnic and papa bear taught little bear how to catch salmon in the river. Once it started getting dark, the bear family made their way back to their cottage in the midst of the woods.

SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

Once upon a time, in a country far away, lived a very beautiful princess with ebony black hair, lips as red as roses and skin as white as snow. The king and queen called her Snow White. After the queen had gotten sick and died, the king remarried a beautiful but vain lady.

Snow Whites' stepmother had a magical mirror. Each day, she asked the mirror the same question: 'Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?' Every day, the mirror told her that nobody was as beautiful as she was. Meanwhile, Snow White grew up into a beautiful young woman. One day, the mirror replied to the question of the vain queen: 'Snow White is the fairest of them all.' The queen grew white with rage. 'I want to be the fairest', she hissed. She called for a hunter and told him to take Snow White into the woods and kill her. But the old hunter felt sorry for Snow White and he just left her in the woods. 'Run, Snow White', he shouted, 'Run into the woods and never come back here!'

Snow White wandered through the dark wood until she saw a tiny house. Nobody was home, but she could see a table with seven chairs, seven plates and just as many cups. She ran upstairs where she saw seven beds in a row. Snow White was exhausted and fell asleep. When she woke up, seven dwarfs surrounded her. The dwarfs were surprised to find this beautiful girl after they had finished work. They were even more surprised when they heard her story. 'Stay with us', they shouted in unison, 'You can live in our house!' Snow White loved the dwarf cottage and was relieved she could stay.

The next day the queen, thinking she had the empire to herself, asked her mirror: 'Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?' To her horror the mirror said: 'Snow White is still the fairest of them all.' 'How can this be?!' the queen shouted. She put on a coat, disguising herself as an old woman and headed for the woods. When she arrived at the dwarfs' cottage, she knocked on the door. 'Who is it?' Snow White asked. 'I am an old woman selling delicious apples!' the queen answered. Snow White gratefully accepted one of the shiny red apples and took a bite, after which she dropped dead straight away.

Mama duck looked frightened as she watched the duckling crawl out of the egg. That is quite a big duckling! And very gray, she thought. But she loved all her ducklings equally so she welcomed the ugly duckling lovingly to her family.

'Come along, little ones', mama duck said, 'I shall introduce you to the animals on the farm.' 'Ugh, that one duckling looks really ugly', the animals on the farm said in unison. And they started badgering the ugly duckling. Mama duck protected it with her big wings. From that day on, the ugly duckling got bitten, pushed and taken for a fool by the other ducks. Even its own brothers and sisters treated it badly every once in a while. The ugly duckling didn't want to make its mother unhappy and decided it would be better to leave.

Tired and sad the duckling arrived at a big, dark swamp inhabited by wild ducks. As soon as they saw it, they yelled: 'Boy you are ugly!' Ashamed, the duckling hid between the reeds and tried to come out as little as possible.

One night in autumn, a flock of beautiful, big birds flew by. The duckling had never seen such gorgeous animals! Those were swans. The winter grew really cold. The ugly duckling tried to keep swimming as long as possible to avoid being frozen fast in the ice. It wandered around all alone for the remaining of the winter.

At last spring came. The duckling had grown bigger and spread out his wings, which had also grown a lot. Before it realised what was happening, the duckling rose with a few wing beats and flew to a big park. It landed in the parks' pond. It could see three elegant white swans swimming by from behind the thicket. Those were the same birds that the duckling had spotted as they were flying by a long time ago. It swam towards the swans. As it came closer, it bowed its head out of shame. But what did it see in the clear water? Its own image. And that was not a clumsy, dark grey duck chick. The ugly duckling had grown into a swan! Children were throwing bread into the water from the ponds' edge. 'Look, there is a new swan!' a little girl cried happily, 'And it is the most beautiful of them all!' The beautiful swan stretched its long neck and swaggered with pride. It had never dared to dream about that much happiness when it was still an ugly duckling.

THREE LITTLE PIGLETS

Once upon a time there was a mama pig with three little piglets. They lived in a small but cosy house. As the piglets grew bigger, mama said: 'Things are getting a bit cramped in here... It's about time you found a place for yourselves.' The piglets thought of it as a great adventure and hit the road. Two piglets were playing all day. The third piglet was somewhat wiser and started building a beautiful little brick house. The other piglets were laughing. 'Come and play, silly pig, we can build our houses later on!' But the piglet continued to work hard.

At the end of the day its brothers quickly built a house for themselves, as they didn't fancy sleeping outside. The first piglet worked really fast and built a house of straw. It had four straw walls and a straw roof. The second piglet built its house out of wood. It had four wooden walls and a wooden roof, since wood is stronger than straw. The third piglet worked all night on its solid, beautiful red brick house.

The next day, the big bad wolf was out on its morning walk when it heard a piglet sing. That sounds like a nice breakfast the wolf thought and he jumped out of the bush. The piglet was shocked and quickly ran back to its straw house. It slammed the door and carefully looked out of the window. The wolf banged on the door and shouted 'Piglet, piglet, let me in!' The piglet bravely replied: 'I wouldn't dream of it!' The wolf laughed and yelled: 'Then I'll huff, and I'll puff and I'll blow your house in!' The wolf took a deep breath and... blew the house in.

➡ The story continues on page 66.

The piglet ran to its brothers' house as fast as it could, but the wolf was chasing it. 'Piglets, piglets, let me in!' the wolf shouted as it arrived at the wooden house. 'We wouldn't dream of it!' the two piglets answered. The wolf got angry, took a deep breath... and blew the house in.

The piglets ran as fast as they could to the brick house that their brother had built and knocked on the door. He quickly let them in and locked the door. 'Piglets, piglets, let me in!' the wolf shouted again. Now the wolf was furious. 'Forget it,' the three piglets responded, 'We wouldn't dream about it!' The wolf took another deep breath and he blew and he huffed and he puffed but the stone house was much too strong to be blown down.

At that point, the wolf burned its back so badly that it quickly crawled back up and never showed its face again!

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD AND THE WOLF

Once upon a time there was a little girl with a red coat. Everyone in the village knew her as Little Red Riding Hood. One day, Little Red Riding Hood's mom was baking a delicious cake. 'Grandmother would surely like a piece of it too', Little Red Riding Hood said, as she put on her coat and put a delicious piece of cake for grandmother in her basket. 'Will you please be careful in the woods?' Little Red Riding Hood's mom asked. 'Don't talk to the wolves and stay on the path!'

Little Red Riding Hood hopped outside, straight into the woods. She sang a jolly song and didn't notice that a big wolf was following her until it stood right in front of her. 'Where are you going little girl?' growled the wolf. Little Red Riding Hood was so scared that she completely forgot that she was not supposed to talk to wolves. 'To my grandmother,' she said, 'I have a piece of cake for her.' The wolf was salivating already, though not because of the cake. Wolves don't eat cake, you know, but they do eat little girls. Such a little girl like this one is pretty meagre to get through the day, the wolf thought. And immediately it came up with a brilliant plan. The wolf quickly said goodbye to Little Red Riding Hood and ran to grandmothers house.

HAIR (step-by-step pictures page 21)

Take a ball of dark brown yarn and cut strands of 12" / 30 cm. Cut enough strands to cover the entire head with. Place the strands over the head with the center of the strand at the center point of the head. The length should be equal on both sides of the head. Sew the strands to the middle of the head. When they are sewn, divide the hair into two equal parts and make a pigtail, one on the left side of the head and one on the right side. Using red yarn, tie a bow around the top portion of each pigtail. Cut the ends straight.

Soon after, there was a knock on the door. 'Come on in', the wolf said with a creaky old voice. Little Red Riding Hood opened the door and looked wonderingly at her grandmother in the bed. 'Grandmother, what big ears you have!' she remarked. 'All the better to hear you with', said the wolf with its creaky voice. 'Grandmother, what big eyes you have!' Little Red Riding Hood said 'All the better to see you with', the wolf answered. Little Red Riding Hood flinched. 'But grandmother, such big teeth you have!' she shouted. 'All the better to eat you with!' roared the wolf. It jumped out of bed and devoured Little Red Riding Hood with just one bite as well. 'Delicious', the wolf said contentedly, 'but it does make one feel a bit tired.' And so the wolf fell into a deep sleep on grandmothers' bed.

You have to know that wolves snore extremely loudly. So loud, that an observant forester immediately knew that something was not right. He opened the door ajar and saw the fat wolf lying on the bed. He could not detect grandmother anywhere, so he soon understood what had happened. He took a pair of scissors and cut open the wolf's stomach. Grandmother and Little Red Riding Hood quickly crawled out. They went and searched for some big stones and filled the wolf's stomach with them. After that, the forester neatly closed it. Later that night, the wolf awoke with a strange feeling in its belly. Eating that grandmother and her little girl made me feel sick, the wolf thought. At that point it pattered into the woods looking for an aspirin.

The wolf saw mama goat leave and had an idea. It sneaked up to the house and knocked on the door. 'Who is it?' the little goats asked. 'It is I,' said the wolf, 'your mommy.' But the little goats could hear its cracking, loud voice. 'Oh no,' the little goats said, 'you are not our mommy; our mommy has a soft and sweet voice. You are the wolf.' The wolf slunk away, but wasn't planning on giving up just yet. The wolf bought a big pot of honey and savoured it all. After that, its voice sounded just as soft as mama goats' voice. He sneaked back to the house and knocked on the door. 'Who is it?' the little goats asked. 'It is I,' said the wolf with a soft voice, 'your mommy.' But one of the little goats saw part of the wolf's pitch-black leg through the window. 'Our mommy has white legs and yours are black. You are not our mommy. You're the wolf.' They kept the door well locked and once again the wolf lost the battle.

The smallest goat had hidden itself in the big clock case. It told mama goat what had happened after which they bravely went and searched for the wolf. They found it sound asleep at the edge of the forest. With some large scissors, they opened the sleeping wolfs' stomach and all six little goats jumped out alive and well. They all hurried to collect some big stones to fill its stomach again. After that, they sewed it up.

Hours later, when the wolf awoke, it was really thirsty. The wolf hobbled to the well. The stones in its belly were shaking noisily. As the wolf approached the well and leaned forward to take a sip, the stones all rolled forward and the wolf fell into the pit. The little goats were cheering and they lived happily ever after.

RAPUNZEL

Once upon a time, a man and a woman were expecting their baby. When the woman became very ill, the man went out and looked for a herb to cure her. The herb could not be found anywhere, except in the garden of a wicked witch who lived around the corner. Secretly, the man sneaked into the garden and picked it. 'How dare you steal my herbs!?' the witch, who had seen what happened, shouted. The man was so scared he dropped the little plant and begged: 'Ask of me anything you wish, I need this herb to cure my sick and pregnant wife.' The witch grinned and said: 'I will let you go, in exchange for your baby.' The man demurred, but he had no choice as his wife needed to be cured.

That same night, their little daughter was born. The witch knocked on the door and took the baby with her. 'I shall call her Rapunzel,' she said, 'after the herb you stole from me.' The witch locked Rapunzel in a high tower to avoid her escaping. She grew to be a wonderful girl with thick and golden hair. Her hair grew longer and longer.

After the witch had left, the prince shouted: 'Rapunzel, Rapunzel, lower your hair.' Rapunzel threw her tresses out of the window and the prince climbed up. She was shocked to see the prince at first, but loved the fact that she had a visitor. They talked for hours, until the sunset. 'I will be back soon,' the prince promised, 'and then I shall take you with me!'

When the witch returned, she noticed something was not right, as Rapunzel was more cheerful than usual. Because she didn't trust things, she decided to cut Rapunzel's long hair and she locked her in the closet. The next day, when the prince arrived at the tower, the witch lowered the tress cut off hair through the window. The prince climbed up and was shocked to find the ugly witch instead of his beautiful Rapunzel.

The witch put a spell on him after which the prince was blind. He screamed, but all he could think of was poor Rapunzel. He pushed the witch out of the high towers' window. She screamed loudly as she fell down. The prince then freed Rapunzel from the closet and they both shed tears of joy. When Rapunzel's tears touched the prince's eyes, the spell was broken and the prince regained his sight. Surprised about it all, he blinked his eyes and immediately asked the beautiful Rapunzel to marry him. They lived happily ever after!

CINDERELLA

Once upon a time there was a very sweet little girl called Cinderella. She lived in a big castle with her mean stepmother and her stepsisters. The lazy and ugly stepsisters made her life hell forcing her to do all the dirty work. One day, a messenger from the royal palace came to invite all the girls from the kingdom to a huge ball. The stepsisters were over the moon. They chose their most beautiful dresses and curled their hair.

'Ah', Cinderella dreamed, 'if only I could go to the ball...' The sisters roared with laughter. 'You? To a ball? Look at the rags you're wearing! And your hair!' They stepped into their carriage and left Cinderella behind, all alone. She felt very sad as she watched them disappear.

All of a sudden Cinderella heard a sweet little voice: 'Don't cry.' A dear old woman was standing in front of her. 'I am your fairy godmother', she said to the surprised looking girl. 'I am here to help you. You are going to the ball!' The fairy godmother touched a pumpkin with her wand and it quickly transformed into an enchanting carriage. The mice that were running around the kitchen were turned into the most beautiful horses and with a last wave; she created a breathtaking ball gown. 'Don't forget,' she warned, 'the spell will be broken at midnight.'

The ball was already in full swing when Cinderella arrived at the palace in the carriage. Everyone was speechless as she entered the ballroom, since nobody had ever laid eyes on such a beautiful girl. To her surprise, the prince came to her and asked her to dance. They floated across the dance floor. Cinderella's glass slippers gently tapped on the floor. They had so much fun that Cinderella almost forgot about her fairy godmother's warning! When all of a sudden she heard the heavy beating of the clock she realised... It is midnight! She ran out of the ballroom and lost a glass slipper on the stairs. The prince ran after her, but he was too late. All he could find was the shiny slipper.

The next morning the whole country was in a commotion. The prince and his servants were going from house to house. Every girl in the country had to try the slipper on. The prince was determined to find that beautiful girl. 'Let us try it on', Cinderella's sisters yelled as the prince arrived at their house. But no matter how they tried to squeeze their big feet in, the elegant slipper did not fit.

At that point, Cinderella timidly appeared. 'She wasn't at the ball!' the sisters protested. But the prince's heart was beating faster the moment he saw Cinderella, even though she was wearing rags. He held his breath as she lifted her foot... and the slipper fit like a glove. 'I knew I would find you!' the prince cried out, and he held her in his arms. The next day there was a huge feast at the palace and, with a triumphal fanfare from the royal trumpets, Cinderella married her prince. They lived happily ever after.

Thank you!

Magical, that's what i would call the creation of this book! I would therefore like to thank a few people for their help.

Firstly, Joke Vermeiren of Meteeor books. Joke immediately agreed that an amigurumi fairy tale book was what we were all missing in our lives, and had all the confidence in my design skills. Joke, thank you again for everything, it was a blast!

The beautiful pictures are made by Joost De Wolf (JDW photography). Joost and I have been working together for a long time and I was very happy that we could make this book together. Thanks, Joost!

Charlotte de Witte tested the patterns in this book together with a group of enthusiastic proofreaders. I am grateful to you all! Thank you Alisha Lingle, Ashton Kirkham, Belen Lumbierres, Francine Carriere, Jill Constantine, Kali Cavender, Kristi Randmaa, Maria Marta Albala, Maxine Velasco, Noah McLeroy, Serena Chew, Shelley Jones, Shir Reichert, Susan Mackie, Melissa Campbell, Amanda French, Iris Dongo, Roni Swiderski, Katie Strange, Laura Elwell, Michelle Donnelly, Lucy Fyles, Wendy Suckow, Sandy O'Brien and Barbara Roman.

Translation of the beautiful fairy tale stories was in the professional hands of Pascale Van Craeyveld and Janine Holmes was so kind to assist us with language and spelling. Thank you for your valued work!

Then I would like to thank a few special people whom I can always rely on: my mother Hennie Ernst and my aunt Wilma van Leeuwen, for helping out and giving feedback.

And of course a special thank you to the heroes in my own fairy tale: my husband Jeroen, my sons Bowen and Devi and my daughter Quinty. I hope for them and for all the people mentioned that they may live 'happily ever after'!

Love, Tessa

Hi, i'm Tessa!

In 2005 I first picked up a crochet hook and since then I have rarely put it down. I learned the basics of crochet from my grandmother and loved it so much that, when I had worked through all of the amigurumi patterns available in Dutch, I decided to design my own. I started an online store named Koekeridoo that evolved into a collaboration with Kim Poelwijk, starting the beautiful handicraft shop Echtstudio. Meanwhile, Kim and her team successfully run the shop on their own and I focus fully on designing patterns, managing my website and, of course, writing fun books like this.

I continue to marvel at the fact that a ball of wool can be transformed into a creature with its own character, using only a crochet hook. I love that I've been able to turn my hobby into my profession and now can watch my three wonderful children grow up.
