Meet Colleen Sullivan

- A Crochet-aholic never far from hooks

"Just when I felt sure that the size of my family was set, it grew again with the addition of our daughter-in-law Kathy and grandson Matthew," says Booties & Bonnets designer Colleen Sullivan.

A native and resident of Sault St. Marie, Ontario, Canada, Colleen and husband Ed have been married twenty years. They have two sons.

After putting in a full day's work as bookkeeper and office manager at an auto body shop, Colleen picks up her crocheting to unwind. More than just a hobby, crochet, she says, is her best way of relaxing after a day at the office – and just about any other time!

"I am a crochet-aholic and am never far from hooks and yarn. I taught myself to crochet from books and for the past five years have been very much into designing."

The arrival of grandson Matthew started Colleen thinking in "a baby way" again. After so many years without a baby in her house, the proud grandma says he is quite the novelty, and sure to be spoiled!

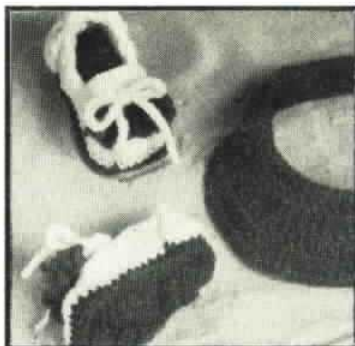

"'Booties & Bonnets' were crocheted with him in mind. If the reaction of my family is any indication, 'Booties & Bonnets' are sure to make excellent gifts, bazaar sellers or sweet and practical accessories for your baby's wardrobe."

About Caron Yarn:

Colleen looked at many yarns before choosing Caron's Dawn Sayelle for her set. "The colors are so pretty and exactly what I needed," said Colleen. "Caron's yarn has the softness so essential to baby's wear."
