GO-KART

MATERIALS

Four 18cm-diameter sturdy wheels; one 60cm and one 46cm length of 1cm-diameter steel rod for axles; 8 metal washers with a 1cm-diameter centre hole; 8cm-long coach bolt with nut to fit and 6 washers; 4 split-pins; length of strong rope; gloss paint; 100cm x 14cm x 2cm piece of timber for centre board; 50cm x 10cm x 2cm piece of timber for front axle board; 36cm x 14cm x 2cm piece of timber for back axle board; 2 pieces 30cm x 14cm x 2cm of timber for seat supports; 42cm x 30cm x 2cm piece of timber for seat board; 5-litre petrol tin; 2 old leather belts or something similar to hold petrol tin in place; insulating tape; oblong washing bowl for seat; 2 empty tins for lights; corrugated staples; nails or screws in assorted sizes; sandpaper; drill.

TO MAKE
Drill a small hole at each end of axle rods, about 3mm in from end. The holes must be big enough to take the split-pins. Attach 60cm axle to the 50cm axle board and 46cm axle to the 36cm axle board by hammering long nails halfway into the underneath of the axle board, then bending the nail over the rod. Use at least six nails on each rod to hold it securely in place. The back axle rod must be in the centre of the board, and the front one placed off centre to allow for the holes for the coach bolt and steering rope. Nail or screw the back axle board under the centre board, 10cm in from the end. Position the two seat supports on either side of the centre board, about 7cm in from back end, using corrugated staples to secure.

Position seat board over seat supports and nail or screw into place. Drill a hole, slightly larger than coach bolt, in front end of centre board, about 7cm in from end. Drill three holes in front axle board, one in middle and one 4cm in from each end. Bolt centre board on top of front axle board, placing three washers on either side of boards. Test that the front axle board moves freely. Thread rope through the two side holes in front axle board. Make large knots underneath so that it cannot come undone. Place two washers on ends of each axle and push on the wheels. Hold each wheel in place with a split-pin pushed through the holes previously drilled in ends of axles. Sand down the kart until smooth. Cut one side off washing bowl. Attach bowl to seat board with nuts and bolts or heavy-duty staples. Paint go-kart and petrol tin. Position petrol tin on centre board as pictured and hold in place with old belts etc. Decorate 'engine' with tape as pictured. Nail cans to front axle board for lights.
