In This Issue...

Welcome to the summer Knitting & Crochet Special. On meeting and chatting with many of you at the various exhibition shows we've attended throughout the year, and from the letters and emails we've received, we know you'd like to see more fashion makes in the Special. So this issue, we've included lots of timeless and hot-this-season patterns in bright summery shades and on-trend neutrals.

Now, I have a sincere apology to make to an old friend, Alan Dart. Regrettably we failed to credit him for the use of his delightful chimney sweep in our April/May 2011 issue, which was unintentional. You can find this pattern and more of Alan's characters at www.alandart.co.uk.

Finally, a reminder to all knitters that we're currently attempting to make the Guinness world record for the longest line of knitted bunting. If you'd like to get involved, see page 73 or go to www.goodtoknow.co.uk.

To make up

Lay knitted bag, right side down on flat surface. Working along second cable from side edges and starting at centre of base, pin tape up back to top edge, leave 51cm free for handle, pin tape down other side of back, across base and up front to top, leave 51cm free for handle, pin tape down front to centre of base. Allowing ends of tape to overlap slightly, cut away any excess. Sew tape in place along both edges and across tape on top of bag. Join row-ends of back and front together on each side. With this seam at centre, sew sides to base.

From buckram, cut out two pieces 40 x 28cm for back and front, two pieces 9 x 28cm for side edges and one piece 9 x 40cm for base. Position appropriate buckram pieces on wrong side of bag and sew them in place.

From lining fabric, cut a piece 52 x 73cm, fold in half widthwise and allowing 1.5cm for seam, join side seams and press. Open out and refold lining so that the side seams line up with original fold and stitch across each bottom corner, so the seams are 9cm long to match width of knitted base. Cut away excess fabric at corners. Press 2cm hem onto wrong side along top edge. With wrong side of lining on the outside, insert lining into knitted bag and slip stitch in place.

This smart bag was taken from The Knitter's Year by Debbie Bliss (£18.99, Quadrille). To order the book for just £14.99, with free UK post and packaging, call 01256 302699, quoting ref: 4RM. Offer closes 29 July 2011.

We Need You!

Fancy helping us celebrate our 100th birthday and make the bunting world record at the same time? Then read on...

Woman's Weekly

We're celebrating our centenary this year here at Woman's Weekly, and as part of the celebrations, we're attending a number of shows and exhibitions across the country and we need your help to decorate our stand with knitted bunting. We're also going to set the world record for the longest line of knitted bunting ever made. So, if you have the time, why not use up your leftover DK yarns and get knitting! Everyone who sends bunting in will be named as a contributor on the stand. Send your work, along with your name, to Mary Bird, Marketing Manager, IPC Media, Blue Fin Building, 110 Southwark St, London SE1 0SU by 19 September 2011. Please note, bunting can't be returned. All entrants' names will be displayed on the Woman's Weekly stands unless informed otherwise.
